Sharing a Little Can Lead to a Lot

Become part of a community of like-minded people making a difference in people's lives.

Build a customer base of at least 20 people who use the products consistently.

Teach two people to do what you're doing and start earning a meaningful monthly income.

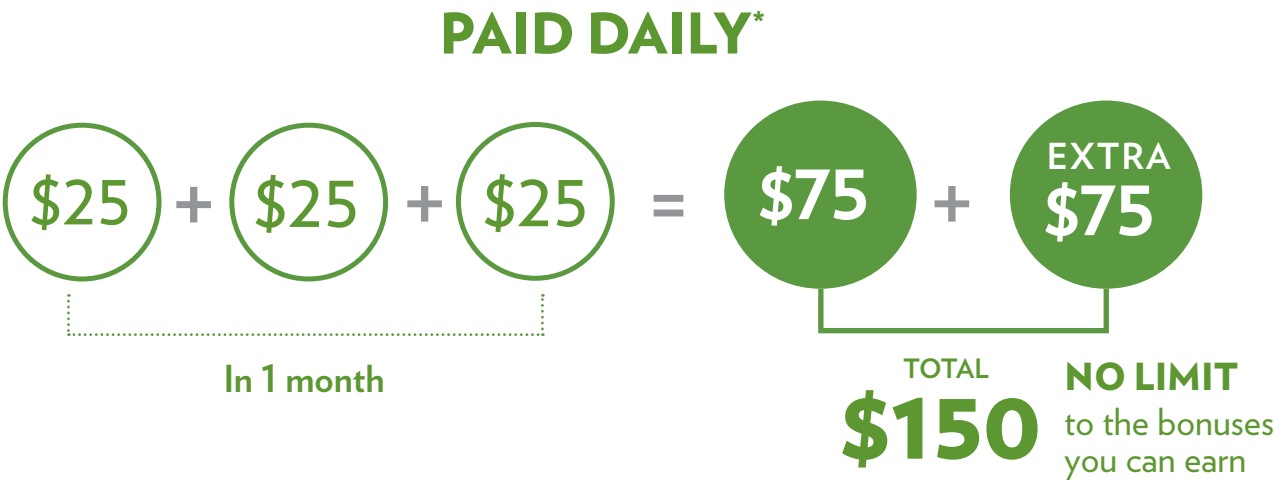

Keep in mind that you can build your business any way you want to, and that this is meant to show only one of many possible ways. Your results will probably be different.
*Personal Group Volume is the total personal volume of the members of your personal group plus your own personal volume.
