MORNING SESSION

Health and Wellness

Bring guests early! This is everyone's opportunity to learn about current research, health information, and the role of supplementation in maintaining wellness from Jamie McManus, M.D., FAAFP, Shaklee Chairman of Medical Affairs, Health Sciences & Education.

AFTERNOON SESSION

First Step Training

The First Step Training includes the most important fundamental steps to build a successful Shaklee business. Anyone can use this step-by-step process at any point in their business, especially at the beginning. This is a hands-on event with experienced and active speakers. You'll learn to use tools and training methods you can put to work in your business—starting the very same day. Also learn how to incorporate targeted product solutions for optimal health.

Invite everyone in your group and on your prospect list and use the specially designed invitation, which you'll find at MyShaklee.com along with more information about the event. We'll see you there!
