Come to a special program featuring Dr. Jamie McManus, the woman responsible for overseeing all the scientific testing and product quality standards for the Shaklee Corporation. Dr. McManus, along with her Health Sciences team, designs and implements the clinical research that has set the standard for the nutrition industry. She is passionate about the importance of wellness education for the general public, knowing that nutrition is the foundation of health.

Since 1996, Dr. McManus has been sharing her knowledge of nutrition, weight management and fitness on stage, radio and television to millions of people in 45 countries. She has led seminars for healthcare professionals in many countries, published articles on health topics in dozens of magazines and newspapers, and has written her own book, Your Personal Guide to Wellness: What Your Doctor Doesn't Have Time To Tell You. She is a member of the American Academy of Family Practice, California Medical Society and American Medical Women's Association. She was an Associate Professor of Family Practice at the UC Davis School of Medicine for 8 years and is President of the School of Medicine Alumni Association.

Shaklee has been the elite supplier of products to NASA for Astronauts on the Space Shuttles, to Olympic medalists and elite athletes for over 30 years, and has shown with the Landmark Study that consistent (20+ years) use of Shaklee products produce remarkable and clinically documented results. Shaklee has over 100 published studies in peer-reviewed Journals. Hear about the latest studies on Vit D3, resveratrol, healthy weight loss, anti-inflammation results, and much more.

Come meet her personally, and hear her perspective on the latest in nutritional research. Find out how the products, the science, and the corporate philosophy distinguish the product line to create “the Shaklee difference” and how this science is the basis for the unique business possibilities for everyone.
Dr. McManus received her M.D. from the University of California at Davis where she graduated with highest Honors and was awarded membership in the prestigious Alpha Omega Alpha Medical Honor Society. After completing her residency in Family Practice and achieving Fellowship in the American Academy of Family Practice, Dr. McManus practiced family medicine for 15 years with special emphasis in preventive medicine, sports nutrition and women's health.

Dr. McManus truly believes in nutrition as the foundation of health. As a long time vegetarian and runner, she walks the walk as well as talking the talk. In 2008 Dr. McManus was awarded "Woman of Distinction" by the East Bay Business Times. Other awards include being named in Best Doctors of America as well as named to America's Best Family Doctors in 2004 by Consumers Research Council of America.

As a health professional, I would like ______ reservations for Dr. McManus Wellness Seminar from 12:30-4:30, at a cost of $40 in exchange for 4 CE credits. I understand that there will be a private 2-hour component of this seminar just for health professionals, and then a public session to complete the four-hour event.
